GUARD TAKES SWIM WHILE BANDS PLAY

District Militiamen Seek Secluded Portion of Virginia Beach For Plunge.

RIFLE RANGE CAMP. Va., Aug. 2-To the strains of the consolidated bands of the District regiments encamped at Virginia Beach, 1,600 men, comprising the two regiments, are in swimming this afternoon, on a secluded portion of the beach. As in maneuvers, the officers command their companies, and keep watchful eye over the swimmers. The moving picture men are grinding away with their instruments, as the exercise of a whole brigade swimming is a decided novelty. This is the first time the militia ever enjoyed such an outing. Later in the day, the bands-men who played for their fellows in the ocean, will take their turn for a dip

The over-Sunday visitors have returned to Washington and Norfolk, and the camp is devoid of civilians at present, except some of the retainers. With the departing visitors went many of the

The brigade got down to regular work this morning. The school of the soldier and the squad without arms received the first attention. Junior officers were designated to take military and topodesignated to take military and topo-graphical instructions from the regular officers detailed for the duties, and there is a bus of activity over the camp. The company musicians, comprising the assembled bugle corps, spent the morn-ing in signal work and wigwagging. The entire brigade was instructed in The entire brigade was instructed in shelter tent pitching and making the blanket rolls. At noon the officers were instructed in first-aid methods, the regiinstructed in first-aid methods, the regimental surgeons acting as teachers.

The weather has been very warm during the day, but each night has brought a cooling breeze, which would ensure good, sound sleep if the mighty mosquitoes could be vanquished. Kerosme are munition is being fired at their broading places and it is expected that their numbers will speedily be reduced.

The maneuvers proper, consisting of minic warfare, will begin on Thursday. They will be of a character to convey the best instruction of military movements supposedly under the fire of an enemy and in the theater of war, yet ments supposedly under the fire of an enemy and in the theater of war, yet they will be devoid of all the spectacular possible, great stress being laid upon the necessity for concealment.

Yesterday was a gain day in camp. As soon as the brigade was mustered in the militiamen put on their dress uniforms and were given passes entitling them to absence from the camp till 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Within an hour the camp was practically deserted. The day was spent at the resorts between Virginia Beach and Norfolk.

The regimental review of the First and Second Infantry on the parade ground yesterday afternoon brought thousands from Norfolk and the nearby resorts. The two bands were consolidated, and the musical program was roundly applauded.

Camp Notes.

Senate Considers the Weeks to Establish One or More Routes.

The Senate had :p for consideration today the bill of Senator Weeks to establish one or more United States navy mail lines between the United States and South America. The bill has parand South America. The bill has par-ticular interest in the present Euro-pean situation, wherein there is a pros-pect much of the European trade with South America will be cut off. The navy has twenty-two vessels, auxiliaries of one sort and another, and cruisers, with a total of 230,000 tons.

He said the war in Europe would cut off a large part of the trade between Europe and South America, and it was an opportune time for his country to enlarge its merchant marine.

Because of lack of a merchant marine in a single bill. Senator Weeks wanted prompt consideration. Senator Newlands, in charge of the trade commission bill, said he had long favored an auxillary navy, to be used for trade country. Nadine refused to prosecute.

Bristow Probably Will Head Minority in Opposing His Confirmation.

A count of noses at the conclusion of the testimony of Paul M. Warburg before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, showed that a majority of the committee were favorable to the confirmation.

A minority report, headed by Sens tor Eristow, is expected. The committee adjourned subject to the call of the chair, which probably will be after receipt of the nomination of the last of the federal reserve board to take the place of Thomas D. Jones.

Completion of the Federal reserve board personnel, with early operation thereof, was President Wilson's confident hope today. He is waiting to hear from one man whom he desires to nominate to the one vacancy on the board. This, it was believed, would mean a nomination this afternoon.

Hebrew Society Aids Worthy Persons Without Exacting Security or Interest.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—One of the most world is that of the Gemiliath Chasodim, or Hebrew Free Loan Society, at 168 Second avenue, where any person of apparent respectability, without distinction of nationality and religion, may obtain a loan of money on request without security, free of interest and expense to the borrower, and he is not compelled to guarantee the payment of the loan. His promise to do so is accepted when he gives a note for the amount loaned him, bearing the indorsement of someone who knows him and is willing to youch for his honesty. With few exceptions the indosers have no commercial rating, and often are as poor in a worldly way as the borrower.

For twenty-two years this society has carried on its business of aiding the small tradesman and mechanics when in temporary difficulties, with loans from $5 to $200. Only one loan made last year exceeded that amount. It was a special loan, and amounted to $390. Since its organization, the society has made 236,422 individual loans, amounting to $5,962,714. The average loss through its borrowers has never exceeded one-half of one per cent of the total amount loaned. President Julius J. Dukas of the society says:

half of one per cent of the total amount loaned. President Julius J. Dukas of the society says:

"For twenty-two years we have successfully shown to the world that most people are honest and repay their loans if a proper chance is given them. Our statistics continue to show, also, that over 57 per cent of our loans are repaid by the horrowers themselves and less than 2 per cent by the indorsers. This year we adopted the new departure of granting the full amount asked for by the horrowers in most cases.

"The object of the society is to loan money to these in need instead of giving alms, and thus assist respectable people whose character and self-respect will not permit them to receive alms.

people whose character and self-respect will not permit them to receive alms, but who will accept a loan, which they can repay, and thus overcome the difficulties in their struggle for means of livelihood. The repayments are made in small weekly installments. What the banks do for the rich and middle classes our institution does for the small tradesman and mechanic.
